

How to Display a Declared Kong in Wright-Patterson Mah Jongg (2020)

Any time a player exposes a kong, they get a supplemental/replacement tile from the Flower wall. Following are scenarios for how to arrange the exposure.

Rule #19 The player’s hand is Double Numbers (#50). They called a discard to expose their concealed pung as a kong. The called tile is right-side up and the concealed pung tiles are upside-down. The block would be scored as an exposed kong of Simples. If you had three concealed pungs you’d qualify for that double also.

Concealed

Winning tile: 南

南 三三三 三三三 三三三 七萬 七萬 七萬

Exposed

三三三 三萬 三萬 三萬

Rule #20 The player’s hand is Double Numbers (#50). They self-picked the fourth tile for a previously exposed pung then converted exposed pung to a kong. Since they have a suit exposed, the two tiles on the side of the exposed kong must be right-side up. The block would be scored as a concealed kong of Simples.

Concealed

Winning tile: 南

南 三三三 三三三 三三三 七萬 七萬 七萬

Exposed

三萬 三萬 三萬 三三三 三三三 三三三

The player’s hand is Heavenly Hash (#70). They first claimed a discard to complete pung of suited tiles, then later declared a concealed kong. The two tiles on the sides must be placed right side up. The kong would score as a concealed kong of Honors.

Concealed

Winning tile: 九萬

南南南 中中中 九萬

Exposed

發發發 發發發

The player’s hand is Eleanor (#44). They first claimed a discard to complete a pung of Honors. Later, they declared a concealed kong of a suited tile and placed all tiles upside down. Later, they claimed a discard to complete a pung of suited tiles. The two tiles on the sides must be placed right side up.. The kong would score as a concealed kong of Simples.

Concealed

Winning tile: 三三三

中中 三三三 三三三

Exposed

東東東 七萬 七萬 七萬 三三三 三三三 三三三

Rule #21 The player’s hand is Double Numbers (#50). They called a discard and exposed a pung then later self-picked the fourth tile. The tile must be placed on top in the middle of the three tiles (bold). The block would be scored as an exposed kong of Simples.

Concealed

Winning tile:

南

南

七萬

七萬

七萬

Exposed

三萬

三萬

三萬

Rule #22 The player’s hand is Windy Gates (#42). They first declared a concealed kong with no suited tiles previously declared. All kong tiles are placed upside down. The kong would score as a concealed kong of Terminals.

Concealed

Winning tile:

Exposed

東

東

東

Rule #23 The player’s hand is Double Numbers (#50). They called a discard and exposed a pung. Later, self-picked the fourth tile and added it to their exposed pung so they now have a kong. If it is the winning tile for another player, they can declare mah jongg by “robbing a kong”. The player who self-picked the tile can still get score for the gong and they need to take a supplemental/replacement tile from the wall then discard. No one can call that discard since someone else already declared mah jongg.

Concealed

南

七萬

七萬

七萬

Exposed

三萬

三萬

三萬